Working together for Dover, Deal and the Villages

Your local Conservative candidates

Trevor BOND

My wife Carolyn and I have lived in the area for 27 years, where they raised our children, Derek (Del boy), Jared and Frances (Frankie).

As a local District Councillor, it has been a pleasure to serve the community and assist the residents of Deal and Sholden in resolving their issues and putting forward their views to the public authorities and service providers. I see my role as fighting for Deal & Sholden residents to ensure that they receive a fair deal and retain key local services.

I am strong advocate for improving the infrastructure in Deal & Sholden without destroying the ambience and the things that have attracted us all to living in this marvelous community. Achievements include getting Southern Water to take steps to lower the flood risk in the area.

My reasons for wishing to stand again for the Dover District Council is my belief that one should put something back into the community and in particular help those less fortunate.

Our pledges for Middle Deal

1. Campaign for the return of hospital blood services
2. Keep Deal safe and clean
3. Reduce flooding risk in Middle Deal

Susan DAVENPORT

I am Susan Davenport and I am delighted to be a candidate for Middle Deal.

Having been a cancer sufferer where I needed several blood tests, I appreciate how unsettling the closure of the phlebotomy service at the Victoria Hospital in Middle Deal can be. If elected, I would seek to restore this service and preserve medical facilities there.

As I have a law degree, I have an interest in crime and community safety. As Deal has no strong police presence, if elected, I would seek to increase the police presence and engagement in Middle Deal.

The flooding in Middle Deal is of great concern and I would seek to ensure the Council's partner agencies are working hard to resolve the flooding issue, especially along Albert Road.

Speaking up for local residents and supporting them is my main interest.
